EXECUTED AT LAST.

The Electrical Current Sends Four of the Murderers Speedily and Painlessly Into Eternity.

SING SING, N. Y., July 7.—James A. Slocum, Joseph Wood, Harris A. Smiler and Schikick Jugigo were killed by electricity in the prison this morning in conformity with the law of the state. Slocum was executed at 4:42 a. m., Smiler at 5:13, Wood at 5:38 and Jugigo at 6:05. The executions went off quietly. All of the men were killed on the first contact. There was no struggling when they were strapped down, and no resistance of any kind. Every precaution was exercised here to avoid the mistakes which made the Kemmler affair at Auburn in part a failure. The causes of the accidents and delays there were known to the warden at Sing Sing and they had been anticipated in the arrangements for the execution of the four men. The tested voltage in the dynamos had been brought up to 3,000, while the estimated voltage which was turned into Kemmler's body was 750. The weakness of the current at the Kemmler execution was chargable, in part, to the slipping of the belts on the dynamos, and especial precautions had been taken to avoid this. A device for the tightening of the belts, if they should slip, was ready in the dynamo room, at the north end of the prison building, for use in case the resistance of the body of any one of the condemned men in the chair should cause an unusual strain on the dynamo and threaten an accident. With the first gray gleam of daylight over the prison wall, the electric lights were turned out and the weary newspaper reporters, who had kept vigil on the hillside, began to look for indications of activity about the prison. At 4:20 the engineer in the dynamo house, to the north of the prison, began firing up for more steam with which to run the fast compound engine. The smoke rolled from the tall chimney and very soon clouds of steam showed that the engineer was ready at any time to take his signal. The window blinds of the dining room were closed tightly and no view could be obtained of the interior, but it was known that about 4:15 breakfast had been served to the condemned men in their cells and to the witnesses in the warden's house. Seated in their cells with only the walls and the iron door between them and the engine of death, the condemned men heard nothing of the busy preparations going on in the execution chamber. They knew that their last minutes were being measured off, though, for their spiritual advisors had been with them for some hours, giving them such consolation as they could. The condemned man took very calmly the announcement that the sentence was about to be executed. They were dressed when the chaplain and priests entered. Their clothing was much alike—a suit of dark diagonal, white shirt and collar and black tie. Meanwhile the witnesses had distributed themselves about the execution chamber. The electrician was in charge of the apparatus for measuring to current which was fastened to the side of the closet opposite the entrance to the cell room. It consisted of the voltmeter, a resistance coil and a row of twenty incandescent lamps, each measuring one hundred volts. A heavy switch board formed the connection between the wires from the dynamo room at the other end of the prison grounds and the wires in the executioner's closet adjoining. A push button communicated with a signal bell in the dynamo room. When the witnesses had ranged themselves about the room, the electrician touched this button once. The engineer responded to the signal and started the dynamos. They had been tested up to 3,000 volts during the morning. When the current had been turned on the electrician threw the switch which turned it into the row of lamps above his head. They burst into a glow of light that rivalled the daylight shining through the canvass covering of the windows about the sides of the improvised execution room.

The prisoners went to the execution chair bravely and met their fate without a struggle. They offered no resistance, but rather assisted the keepers when they were bound down in the chair. The electrodes were not applied as in Kemmler's case to the top of the skull and the base of the spine, but were bound to the foreheads of the condemned men and the calves of their legs. The current was turned on in each case for twenty seconds. The voltage was about 1,500 and 1,600. In each case there were apparent evidences of revival as in the Kemmler case, and in each of these four cases the current was turned on a second time. In spite of the fact that sponges were kept constantly wet all of the executed men were burned by the current, especially about the calves of the legs. The medical men present agree that death came on first contact and that the seeming revival was merely a reflex muscular action. None of the witnesses was overcome by fright, and all of them who have spoken have made the statement that the electrocutions were successful and death in all cases was instantaneous and painless. At 12 o'clock Drs. Southwick and Daniels and Deputy Attorney Hogan left for the west. None of them would talk. Dr. Harbor, the physician of the prison, came out shortly after and said that the autopsy was completed and that no statement would be given out for several hours. Dr. McDonald conducted the autopsy.

Ex-Warden Brush, under whose administration the apparatus was erected, drove through the grounds on his way to the depot. Asked concerning the appliances he said: "Everything was in perfect order when I left it, and I have no doubt but that the apparatus was used just as I planned it, because we had it in the best of working order. The applications were made to the head and calves of the legs, so that absolute connection with the spinal cord was obtained. We killed a horse with it and I think that it was possible to successfully kill a man every few minutes in this way. It took about a year to the buildings and construct the apparatus. Everything was done in the most through manner, and I don't think that the present warden had to change a single thing." The ex-warden added that he did not approve of electrocution. He thought it was barbarous and not deterrent.

Lawyer J. Haire, of New York, who tried to effect a stay for Wood, stayed in Sing Sing this morning until the announcement was made that all of the men, including his client, had been killed. Before leaving for New York on the morning train he said: "It seems to me that Warden Brown was unnecessarily in a hurry to execute Wood. He had all week to do it in according to law, and the best interest of law and humanity would have been served by allowing me the full time in which to secure a stay. There is a possibility that I might have secured it. I am almost positive that a new trial would have secured his acquittal."

Dr. Alphonso D. Rockwell, the man who devised the electrode, and who was one of the three commissioners appointed to supervise the electrocution, was the first of the experts to emerge from the prison. Dr. Rockwill hurried to the depot to catch an early train to New York. He said: "We are pledged to secrecy, but I do not think I am violating that pledge in saying that all four executions were unqualified successes. The men all died painlessly and without a struggle. Further than this I can not speak."

E. A. Brown, purchasing agent of the state prison, said that there was no doubt that the electrocutions were absolutely painless. "The horse killed yesterday in the final test of the machinery," he said, "was dead before it fell. Its eye balls were as natural as in life, after death, and this was the condition of the men put to death this morning. Each walked calmly to death, and there was not a struggle or hitch at any stage of the proceedings. When the current was turned into a man's body he died so quickly that it was difficult to realize that death had occurred."

The Rev. Dr. Law, chaplain of the Tombs, New York, who was the assistant of the prison chaplain and a witness, said to a United Press reporter at the station this morning: "I was fully convinced that the killing of murderers by electricity was a failure, but I am now convinced to the contrary. Every one of the men went to the chair calmly and died easily and without pain or contortion. Death was instantaneous. I am bound to secrecy and can say no more."

George Edgar Oliver, of Albany, a witness, said: "I came here because I am a personal friend of Warden Brown, I can say nothing about the execution, because I, together with all of the witnesses, signed a paper last night at 10 o'clock pledging myself to secrecy."

Mr. Oliver wanted to ride to the station, and did so in the conveyance of the United Press. Asked by the reporter if the execution was a success, he nodded assent. He was asked if Dr. Law's statement concerning the quiet manner of the victims and their instantaneous deaths were true, he said that they were. So far as he could judge, the executions were a success. While Dr. McDonald was after his instruments the other witnesses were taken in to breakfast with the warden. They completed breakfast shortly before 9 o'clock and most of them came out in front of the warden's office and sat about smoking cigars and chatting. They resisted all importunities from newspaper reporters to come out and be interviewed and the armed guards kept the newspaper men at a good distance. It is now probable that the autopsys will not be completed before 10 o'clock or later and the warden will not permit any of the witnesses now in the jail to go away before that time unless on imperative business. One or two of the Albany contingent have just left, presumably on their way to the station.

Two of the witnesses to the execution, who refused to give their names, were interviewed by the United Press correspondent before the autopsy. They said that all the electrocutions were completely successful and without a flaw. None of the men struggled or resisted when placed in the chair. Instead of doing so they assisted the deputy warden in arranging the straps, as Kemmler did at Auburn. The Jap, who, it was thought, would be hard to handle, was perfectly docile. All of the men were killed on the first contact. The positive electrode was applied, as in the Kemmler case, to the top of the head and the negative to the leg. Most of the witnesses will remain to the autopsy. The story that the Jap resisted an attempt to cut his beard yesterday, is disproved by the fact that his beard was trimmed a week ago in anticipation of the execution.

SING SING, N. Y., July 7.—11:40 a. m.—F. Hunberg and two assistants, of 265 West 125th street, New York city, have applied at the prison for the body of Smiler. They brought a casket.

HISTORY OF THEIR CRIMES.

James J. Slocum killed his wife, Nellie, with an axe in their rooms at 114 Roosevelt street on the night of December 31, 1889. Mrs. Slocum was a young and handsome woman although she had led to some extent a dissipated life in consequence of the conduct of her husband. Slocum was at one time a professional base ball player. For some time before the murder he was supposed to work as a longshoreman, but he really was supported by the scanty earnings of his wife. He and she spent most of their time in a state of quarrelsome intoxication.

Joseph Wood, colored, killed Charles Ruffin, also colored, in a grocery store in a shanty near Shaft 21 on the line of the new aqueduct, on Sunday, May 19, 1889. Wood and Ruffin were laborers employed on the aqueduct. Wood worked regularly, while Ruffin was not steadily employed. Wood was in the state only three months when he shot Ruffin, having come here direct from Ohio.

Schikick Jugigo was convicted on December 3, 1889, of murdering a fellow Japanese sailor named Mura Commi in a boarding house at 85 James street. Commi and Jugigo had been staying at the boarding house on the lookout for a ship to take them home to Japan.

Harris A. Smiler, on April 3, 1889, murdered Maggie Draino, one of his three wives. Seven years before he had married Margaret Weiss, who was very young. He subsequently married Lizzie Gates. Smiler in turn deserted Lizzie and two children, of whom he was the father, going to live with Maggie Drainey, with whom he went through the form of a marriage ceremony.

STREET CAR COLLISION.

Electric Cars Come Together With a Crash, Injuring Three People.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 7.—At 8:40 this morning, car No. 1 on the Atwood's Street Electric road, and car No. 61 on the Duquesne electric road collided at the Forbes avenue and Atwood street crossing. The cars crashed together at full speed. The Atwood street car was much the lighter, and with its seventeen passengers was knocked over twenty feet from the crossing and thrown upon its side. The Duquesne car was also derailed and damaged. John Hazlett, jr., the fourteen-year-old son of City Editor Hazlett, of the Leader, was standing on the front platform of the Atwood street car and was knocked, rolled and dragged several feet. His shoulders and limbs are terribly cut and it is stated that the skull was badly fractured. It is believed that his injuries are fatal. Mrs. Davies, of Fifth avenue, a passenger on the Atwood car, and Mrs. Wm. Nagle, a passenger on the Duquesne car, were also seriously bruised and cut. Several other persons were less seriously hurt. Both of the motor men were arrested and locked up. The flagman at the crossing had signalled the Atwood street car to cross over. The Duquesne motor man paid no attention to the warning given him by the policeman and came ahead at full speed.

DIAMOND THIEF CAUGHT.

William Duncan, Who Stole $30,000 Worth of Jewelry, is in Jail.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Young Wm. Duncan, alias "Eli Valdes," who in January last stole $30,000 worth of precious stones from his employers, Lewsohn & Co., of Maiden Lane, was arrested last night at the Astor house. At the time of the theft Duncan deposited in the hotel safe a small box which was not called for, and which, when opened by the hotel men, was found to contain Lewsohn & Co.'s diamonds, for which the police had been searching. Last night Duncan appeared at the hotel and asked for his box and was taken into custody. He hails from St. Louis.

Greatly Increased Earnings.

BOSTON, July 7.—For the fourth week of June Atchison earnings increased $64,574 and Frisco earnings increased $17,055; total increase, $111,629. For the month of June the Atchison increased $173,120 and the Frisco increased $99,820; total, $263,079.

Mrs. James Henry, of South Wayne, is entertaining the Busy Bee club, of Wabash. This organization is composed of the following ladies: Mesdames Torrence, DePuy, Herring, Hoover, Kendall and Murgy.

A GLOOMY CITY.

The Scenes of the Great Cyclone Vividly Described—Eleven Killed and Many Wounded.

BATON ROUGE, La., July 7.—The rain that came with the cyclone yesterday is still pouring down. There is in the whole country no gloomier city today than is Baton Rouge. A pathway 200 yards wide, diagonally across the town, is littered with the wreck of the houses, etc., that were blown down. Many are homeless, but are being cared for by their more fortunate neighbors. The fact that the rain continues adds much to the damage, as in the houses that were simply unroofed the furniture is almost a total loss. The rain has soaked everything and has washed in the grit that went with the clouds of dust raised by the destruction of the building at the penitentiary. At the penitentiary the buildings left standing are all more or less wrecked, the only building not unroofed being the old machinery hall in which are the wounded, several of them at the point of death. Ten were almost instantly killed. John Fahey, of St. Landry, died shortly after midnight, making the eleventh victim. He had been horribly mangled. The immediate cause of death was hemorrhage, caused by the broken ends of several ribs having penetrated his lungs and stomach. Mollie O'Neil, one of the West Baton Rouge parish bull dozers sent for twenty years for the killing of a negro and his accomplice, Alex Terrill, are both at the point of death. Both are badly injured about the chest and abdomen. It is probable that both of these men will be dead ere sun down. Three or four others are in much the same condition. Dewitt, a convict, who is an ex-army surgeon, is doing noble work, not having left the wounded since the accident. In the women's department there was no loss of life, but the building is almost a total wreck. The best of order prevails among the convicts. The tug, "Smoky City," which was caught in the river about a mile from the city, passed up today in tow to Pittsburg. At the time of the accident she had in tow six empties bound up the river. Captain McClure said that he had on board at the time a crew of forty-two. A dozen or more were badly injured and not a man escaped without bruises. One negro was blown overboard and drowned. One deck hand was severely hurt and sent by train to New Orleans. The captain estimates his loss at $10,000, on which there is no insurance. The loss to property in the city will amount to fully $250,000. There is but one storm insurance policy on any of it, and that amounts to very little. Reports from the country show that for fourteen or fifteen miles across the river a swarth fully 200 yards wide was cut. Not a stalk of corn, a bit of fence, or a building remains standing. The storm is still raging, and it will be impossible to get anything like an accurate account of damage within the next twenty-four hours.

BALLOON STRUCK.

Lightning Destroys a $35,000 Air Ship in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 7.—While six men were making a desperate endeavor to hold the monster balloon at Fifty-second street and Cottage Grove avenue during the storm last night, the ropes broke and it careened over on its side, burying four of the men. Just then came a vivid flash of lightning, followed by a loud report. The balloon had been struck. It burst with a detonation that was heard for miles around. The balloon had been brought from Paris especially for the Fourth of July, and was valued at $25,000. It was so big that the pressure of gas from the city mains was insufficient to fill it, and there was no ascension that day.

TROUBLE FEARED.

The Government Sends a War Ship to Samoa to Watch Over Affairs.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The navy department evidently fears that trouble is likely to arise in Samoa between the followers of King Malietoa and Chief Mataaf, as instructions have been issued to the Iroquois now stationed at Honolulu, to proceed at once to Apia. The Charleston will probably be at Honolulu in the Iroquois place.

Lobster Factories Closed.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 7.—The commander of the British naval officers in Newfoundland waters has issued an order closing ninety-eight lobster factories along the French coast, which, it is alleged, are running in violation of the modus vivendi. Over a thousand fishermen and others are thrown out of employment. Much indignation prevails, and if the season passes without a collision it will be strange.

WRECK ON THE MONON.

A Work Train and Freight Collide at Lafayette.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 7.—A collision occurred last evening on the Monon railroad, six miles south of this city. A work train which was backing north was run into by a freight going south. Aaron Heck, of Delphi, was killed. Frank Wyatt, of Delphi, was badly bruised. Julius Domckee, of Monroeville, was scalded on the left arm and badly shaken up.

BOARD OF REVIEW.

A Session Held to Review and Equalize the Assessments of Real and Personal Property.

The county board of review, which under the new law takes the place of the old board of equalization, entered upon its first session today. The board consists of the county assessor, county auditor and county treasurer. They meet for the assessment, review and equalization of taxes.

County Assessor Heath is president and Auditor A. F. Glutting is secretary of the board.

The board of review has the power to hear the complaints of any owner of personal property, except "railroad track" and "rolling stock" of railroads, to equalize the valuation and taxables made subsequent to the first day of last April, and to correct any list of valuation that they may deem proper. The board also has the power to equalize the valuation made by the assessors, either by adding or deducting therefrom such sums as are necessary to fix the assessment at the true cash value.

County Auditor Glutting has submitted the assessment lists of the county as returned by the township assessors and the board has proceeded to examine the same. Such corrections and changes in the returns as are recommended by the county assessor will be made.

It is the duty of the board to inquire as to the valuation of the various classes of property in the respective townships and increase or decrease to make a just and equitable equalization so as to conform throughout the county to a standard, reference being had to the natural and artificial surroundings and other elements of value. President Heath said: "The board has no power to reduce the aggregate value, nor increase the same beyond the amount actually necessary for a proper and just equalization. It is a mistake, too, that we have any power to change the levy, as some people think we have. The legislature fixes the state levy and the county commissioners fix the county levy."

"Do you anticipate there will be any assessments raised?" asked a SENTINEL reporter of President Heath.

"There will be a few, perhaps, but I think most of the changes will be to decrease assessments."

"Are you going to have a busy session?"

"The outlook is for such, and I think will be busy for eighteen days, the limit of time which the law allows."

The board meets in the county commissioners' room. Up to the hour of 2 o'clock a few complaints had been received, but the work had hardly been fully entered upon. Secretary Glutting is keeping a record of the proceedings. The new law provides that appeals shall be from the decision of the county board of review to the state board of tax commissioners, which convenes in the office of the auditor of state on the first Monday of August each year, with the governor as chairman.

ASKED TO RESIGN.

Bank President Goodwin Borrows Too Much Money From the Bank.

HAVERHILL, Mass., July 7.—The Essex National bank, of this city, was examined by Bank Examiner Getzell yesterday and afterward the directors accepted the resignation of Chas. H. Goodwin, as president and director, and elevated Oliver Taylor in his place. The bank will continue business and the bank examiner says its condition is not involved in yesterday's transactions. Mr. Goodwin bought the bank some time ago—that is obtained control of the stock—and he has been borrowing more money from the bank than the examiner could approve. The annual examination last March was unsatisfactory and another on June 22nd revealed the irregularities which led to the removal of Mr. Goodwin.

PAPA OBJECTED.

And Pretty Kate Mangan Elopes and is Married to Her Lover.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 7.—Miss Kate Mangan, daughter of Mayor Mangan, of Frankfort, and W. A. Wilard, a traveling salesman, were privately married at the Broadway Baptist church yesterday morning. The marriage was in direct opposition, it is understood, to the wishes of the bride's parents. Miss Mangan left the parental roof, saying that she was going to visit a friend. Instead, however, she went quickly to the depot, where she was joined by her lover. The couple are now at the Fifth avenue hotel awaiting the paternal forgiveness.

CHANGED HIS MIND.

Judge McNutt Reverses His Own Decision in the Terre Haute Case.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 7.—Judge McNutt, of the superior court yesterday reviewed and reversed his former decision, holding the state metropolitan police law unconstitutional. The cause of this change was the discovery of a decision of the supreme court touching the very point that the court here declared had vitiated the law. This decision had been overlooked by counsel in the case. The city promptly took an appeal to the supreme court from Judge McNutt's decision.

The court also dissolved the injunction restraining the state police board from organizing the force. The effect of yesterday's decision changes the whole aspect of the police muddle here, which has continued with various exciting episodes for over four months, part of the time two rival police forces being on duty. Yesterday's ruling gives the state police board, appointed under act of the legislature, the power to finally proceed to organize the police force. A complete reorganization of the force is expected. The city council will continue to fight the case in the supreme court, on the ground that the city has the sovereign right to control its own police force.

FROM AN EYE WITNESS.

Graphic Description of the Bush Talked of Chilian Battle.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 7.—Her majesty's ship Warspite arrived direct from Ocquimbo and her officers have many stories to tell of the scenes in connection with the Chillian rebellion witnessed during their stay there. The following account of the bombardment of Iquique is furnished, it being stated that all other accounts hitherto furnished have been much exaggerated: "On Sunday, February 13, the government troops, 300 in number, evacuated Iquique. On the following day the rebels landed their men and took possession of the town, and issued a proclamation to the effect that the town being fairly in their hands, the blockade was at an end and that trade would go on. Accordingly the poorer classes, who had been camping out on lighters and on Light House Island, and also the English and other European residents, who had taken refuge on the merchant vessel, returned to town, but unfortunately on the morning of Thursday, the 19th, a continual rifle firing, accompanied by the whizzing of machine guns, announced that during the night the government troops, under Colonel Sotto, had slid down the steep incline at the back of the hospital and had remained their concealed until daylight, when they revealed their presence to the astonished sailors. In the fighting which followed 112 men were killed and 200 wounded. Many buildings were burned."

THE JULY 4th BICYCLE RACES.

By Whom and on What They Were Won.

At Centlivre's Park, under the auspices of the Fort Wayne Amusement company, on July 4th, there were two bicycle races, from scratch, open to all Fort Wayne amateurs, a two mile and a three mile event. Mr. William McClellan won both races and now holds the two finest gold medals ever given in bicycle races in this city. He rode his own Columbia Light Roadster safety, a regular 1891 pattern Columbia road wheel of regular gear, as per catalogue specifications, the same as used in all the Columbia Safeties sold in Fort Wayne this year.

MINE DISASTER.

Three or Four Men Perish in the Escaping Gas.

SANTA FE, N. M., July 7.—Advices from White Oak say that at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning the South Homestake mine was discovered on fire. Several men were overcome by gas, and the lives of three or four more were barely saved. Friday at daylight the foot of the shaft was reached and the bodies of two men found in the drift.

LOCAL LINES.

A report of P. S. O'Rourke's to branch 103, C. K. of A., is being distributed by Patrick Ryan to members of the order.

Henry Daseler, the father of Policeman Daseler, is lying very ill at his home and but little hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Alfred S. Hattersley and bride, nee Carrie Grage, are expected to return home from Chicago this evening. The SENTINEL published the first account of their elopement yesterday.

Ed. McCauley, who recently purchased the saloon at 101 Calhoun street, is making some handsome improvements in the interior of his room, and fitting it up in an attractive manner.

Walter H. C., the infant son of Frank Saffen, died last evening at the residence, 105 Madison street. The funeral will take place Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the residence, Rev. Bauer officiating.

Miss Sadie Cook, of 281 South Webster street, was pleasantly surprised by the arrival of Mrs. Wolbert and Miss Mare Tousy, of Dayton, and also of Miss Joan Morrison, accompanied by her brother, Pat.

The nine year-old son of George Phelps, of Putnam street, fell from a cherry tree this morning, suffering severe, though not fatal injuries. One of the lad's arms was fractured and he is badly bruised. It was a narrow escape.

A. C. Beaver, the ex-miller of this city, was roughly handled by a Grand Rapids policeman while standing in the depot at that place. Mr. Beaver is a highly respected resident of Fort Wayne and this insult to him may result in the removal of the important men of brass buttons.

DIED OF GANGRENE.

William Kruse, an Old Man, Meets His Death from an Old Poisoned Wound.

William Kruse, aged eighty-three years and twenty eight days, died of gangrene at 9:10 o'clock this morning. This is a strange case. Some months ago the old man injured several of his toes but the wound began to heal and nothing serious was thought of the matter until a few days ago when evidences of gangrene alarmed the relatives, who sent for a physician. Since then Mr. Kruse was under daily medical attendance, but blood poison extended over the whole system, making recovery impossible and causing the unfortunate man agonizing and almost unendurable pain. He continued to get worse until death rescued him from further torture. The deceased was a fine old man, highly respected, and was an old resident. He was the father of Mrs. Henry Waltemath, of 43 West Lewis street; Mr. Kruse, the dairyman, and another son or daughter. The funeral will take place Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the residence, 43 West Lewis street, Rev. Eldridge officiating.

THE COURTS.

New Suits Filed and Local Items Found to Legal Circles.

Justice Ryan, who has been on the sick list for several weeks, is slowly improving.

Robt. B. Driebelbiss has been appointed a notary public.

Frank A. Murphy and Anna F. Brondel, John B. Frederick and Mary Schultz have been licensed to wed.

The inventory of Geo. F. Grosaner, as guardian of Ursalla Grosaner, has been filed in the county clerk's office.

Judge Dawson has returned from the west and will convene the superior court tomorrow morning.

Mary Anfreakt sues Samantha B. Hall to foreclose a loan of $600. C. A. Hays is attorney.

Minnie Trone sues Frank M. Merica for $175 on a note. C. W. Kuhns is attorney for the claimant.

John M. Jacobs sues Mary M. Fry to foreclose a note for $650. Swayne & Doughman pen the complaint.

Mayor Zollinger found himself without any cases this morning. The Fourth of July drunks had got too drunk to get drunk again right off and concluded to take a rest for awhile.

Gottlieb Schneider, through his attorneys, "The Big Four," brings foreclosure suit again Joseph P. Bennett et al, for $600 on account.

Justice Tancey has turned in the fines made by him during the past six months to the county treasurer, $71 in all.

Justice Hays fined H. Goldstein $1 and costs for shooting off a revolver on the public highway.

County Auditor Glutting, County Treasurer Mowrer and County Assessor Heath are sitting as a board of equalization to review the work of the assessors.

The transcript in the case of Johanna Koehlinger against Constable Schlandroff and Frank Ollenloch, about the replevin of a horse, has been filed by Justice Hays in the superior court.

The papers have been made out for the commitment of Rosa L. Kaler, age thirteen years, to the female reformatory. The complaint is made by Mary E. Kaylor, the child's mother, who says her daughter is incorrigible and cannot be coaxed, scolded or whipped into obedience. The parties live at New Haven.

DELLA BIRD.

Kuhns' Sweetheart Gets Her Money and Leaves Tiffin.

Della Bird, who figured so prominently in the Kuhns murder trial at Tiffin, quietly drew her money last Friday at that city and departed, presumably for her home in Delaware. She had in good hard cash about $176, and the question of appointing her a guardian, as she is but sixteen years of age, had been discussed, and this, it is thought, hastened her departure. In case Kuhns is granted a new trial she will again be subpœnaed.

Kuhns said to one of his guards on Sunday that he would have been better pleased had the jury found him guilty of murder in the first degree, as he preferred death to life imprisonment. It is probable, however, that Marvin would change his mind before he would reach the scaffold.

THE MONTPELIER AFFRAY.

Cash Herron Arraigned Mrs. Lanning of the Murder.

HARTFORD CITY, July 7.—The Blackford county murder in the echo town in the neighborhood of the reserve today. Cash Herron, whom Lanning accused, has fled the county, but before leaving he declared that Mrs. Lanning had done the stabbing herself. No more evidence was elicited yesterday at the inquest, which resulted in finding Herron guilty of the murder.

Stansbury Wins Again.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., July 7.—The sculling race for the championship of the world and $1,000 aside, between James Stansbury, champion of Australia, and James McLean, also of Australia, took place on the Parramatta river today. The race was won by Stansbury.

OUR CIRCULATION.

STATE OF INDIANA, ALLEN COUNTY, ss:

Personally appeared before me, Clerk of the Allen Circuit Court, Jos. F. Eckhardt, business manager of THE FORT WAYNE SENTINEL, who being duly sworn says that the actual number of copies of THE DAILY SENTINEL delivered to subscribers and sold to newsboys and to all agents, during the week ending July 3, 1891, was as follows:

Monday, June 29	3,371
Tuesday, June 30	3,355
Wednesday, July 1	3,395
Thursday, July 2	3,380
Friday, July 3	3,350
Total for the week	16,851
Average for the week	3,369

(Signed) JOS. F. ECKHARDT.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 6th day of July, 1891.

DANIEL W. SOUDER, Clerk.

THIS DAY IN THE PAST.

1376—Edward II of England died, his last injunction being that his son must conquer Scotland.

1816—Richard Brinsley Sheridan, Irish orator and dramatist, died.

1862—Battle of Bayou Cache, or Hill's Plantation, Ark.

1863—Six minor battles, including a sharp cavalry fight at Iuka, Miss., and fight between the North Kansas and Indians at Fort Halbrook, I. T.

1864—Sherman's advance forced the passage of the Chattahoochee; battles at Clinton and Ripley, Miss.

TO-NIGHT.

R. R. Y. M. C. A. COTTAGE MEETING—At 40 Baker street.

KNIGHTS OF ST. JOHN—Meeting of committee.

LODGES Fort Wayne, No. 105, K. of P., in station; Home, 302, F. & A. M.; Fort Wayne No. 19, A. O. U. W.

Don't lose sight of the fact that Fort Wayne needs the electric street car.

The city of Tiffin, Ohio, is paving her principal business street with fire brick.

The SENTINEL'S circulation is increasing right along. It is because we give all of the news.

The military encampment to be held here this month will attract large crowds of people to this city.

Our Mahoning railroad and Pennington air ship are keeping company. They have both gone glimmering.

Fort Wayne has no boom this year, but she is growing right along, nevertheless—a sure, steady and solid growth.

This is a dull season for the hotels of the city. Many of the commercial travelers are taking their summer vacations.

Harrison is losing ground as a presidential candidate. A number of Indiana republican newspapers have "spotted him."

Fort Wayne has the finest church edifices in the state, and several handsome new ones are being erected this summer.

The Ohio democratic state convention will be held at Cleveland next week. Governor Campbell will be renominated.

Let us not forget drinking fountains. They would be a grand thing for our city, and a number of them ought to be erected.

The harvest season makes dull days for our merchants, but the pay-days of the month will now brighten up trade considerably.

President Harrison is now at Cape May Point with his family, enjoying his summer vacation. He will remain there for a month.

The Young Men's Christian association is working up a fine amusement course for next winter, and they should be encouraged in their efforts.

The democrats of Ohio are talking of Frank Hurd for governor. His nomination would be a good one. Mr. Hurd is a champion of tariff reform.

Rector White, of St. John's Episcopal church, Lafayette, notifies his congregation that only fifteen minute sermons "goes" during the hot term, and there is no protest.

The old house standing for more than forty years on the river bluff, near South Bend, which marked the home of John Peashiway, a Pottawatomie chief, has been torn away. It was a landmark in St. Joe county and a famous trysting place for Indians in early times.

Seventy-five million dollars is contributed yearly in the United States to the sustenance of the church. $31,000,000 more being given for purposes purely devotional. Within the century now drawing to a close 150,000,000 copies of the Bible have been printed in 226 different languages. Fifty years ago there were 582 missionary stations in foreign parts, there are now 5,785. Fifty years there were 653 ordained missionaries; today there are 6,936 such servants of the Lord. Then there were but 1,266 other laborers and helpers abroad, now there are 40,552.

The annual celebration of America's Independence day has lost something of the old time fervor and with each passing year its observance is becoming less universal. This is due, to a great extent, to the fact that other days, in commemoration of more recent events, have sprung up. Memorial day now seems to claim more attention and is generally observed all over the country. It is right to pay this tribute to our soldier dead, but Americans should not forget the anniversary of the birth of their country. There cannot be a doubt that the constant observance of Independence day, that brings us back to first principles at least once a year, has been of the greatest aid in preserving the traditional liberties of the American people and we ought to rejoice and jollify with each recurrence of our glorious Fourth of July.

Hon. Fred Douglass, United States minister to Hayti, has arrived in Washington on a leave of absence. He denies the sensational stories of his fleeing for his life during the recent disturbances in Hayti. Mr. Douglass also denies that he has been recalled from his post by the state department. He would not grieve much, he says, if he were recalled, for he is ready to return to his quiet home and spend the remainder of his days. If Douglass is the coward the Hayti letters represent him to be, he had better remain at home.

Is there is any one getting any glory or credit out of the plate printers' controversy now raging at Washington, it is difficult to see who it is. If the seven printers were discharged from the bureau of engraving and printing for good cause, the secretary of the treasury appears in a very diminutive role in entering into negotiations for their restoration as a political device to save votes to the republican candidate for governor of Ohio. If they were discharged without good cause they should be restored without the spur of political necessity. The labor leaders do not appear to much greater advantage in this controversy than Secretary Foster. They have divided into two hostile factions on the subject, one demanding that the discharged men shall be restored, and the other that they shall not. In view of this one would think that even a politician like Secretary Foster could afford to treat the question solely on its merits. Whatever action he takes one faction of the labor organization will be mad.

VICTORIOUS BUCKEYES.

Built Required Seventeen Innings to Down the Hidgets.

Judging from the score, yesterday's game at Dayton must have been a beauty. Captain Hecker succeeded in sending one of his boys over the plate in the seventh inning, but after this not one was allowed to look at it, while for the Buckeyes, they were given a dose of circles up to the ninth, when one of them broke loose and crossed the plate, thus ticing the game. Then it was "chic dog and cat hatchet" up to the seventeenth, when another Buckeye brave broke away and rushed in with the winning run.

Dayton has the reputation of having seen more long-winded games this season than any other place. The reason for this is assigned to the fact that the grounds there are a veritable sand heap, and the ball will not move from where it drops until picked up by a player, thus preventing grounders being of any account. We are still second, but have only to thank the Terre Hautes for it, as they pulled Grand Rapids down a peg yesterday, while "Your Uncle Andy" advanced "Frost" and his "Sucker Terrors" another notch. It's about time that the Peorins strike a snag and come down a few pegs. They seem to have a cinch on the high branch, and cling there like tramps to a freight train.

Our new men will soon be on hand and then we will float again. Tomorrow the Hottentotts will be here, while the latter part of the week will be devoted to the Buckeyes, who make their first appearance here on Saturday next.

Yesterday's games resulted as follows:

INDIANA ITEMS.

There is profound satisfaction in Noble county over the fact that Mervin Kuhns, the desperado, will go to the penitentiary for life.

A fugitive sky-rocket at Washington, on the Fourth, set fire to Elisha Greenwood's livery stable, and also burned Summs Brothers' ice house. Loss $7,000.

James Parker, aged fifteen, near Tipton, blew into the muzzle of a gun to ascertain if it was loaded. His foot slipped off the hammer and his brains were blown out.

While the Diffenbach circus was performing at Washington, John Millican, the clown, was fatally stabbed in a row. Jack O'Brien, a coal hearer, is under arrest.

Peter Weinbrenner, of Jeffersonville, a worthless character, angered because his wife refused longer to live with him, called at the home of her sister, where she had sought shelter, and shot her twice in the head. The other shots took effect in the neck and arm. Mrs. Weinbrenner was fatally wounded. Her husband was intoxicated at the time of the shooting.

CANNIBALS OF INDIANA.

The Human Flesh Eaters Dwelt at Fort Wayne in Early Times.

In a three column article on "Cannibals of Indiana," published in the Indianapolis News, a writer signing himself "E. F. C." has the following about the flesh eaters that lived at Fort Wayne in early times:

While a resident of Fort Wayne, Ind., (over fifty years ago) where the Miami and Pottawatomie Indians then resided, I had often seen a very old, shriveled up squaw, a withered, repulsive-looking creature, who, it was said, was a descendent of the family of man-eaters, belonging to the Miami tribe of Indians.

I remember one Sabbath afternoon in the month of September, while taking a stroll with my aged friend, Jean Battiste Bruno, an old French engage and Indian trader, then at least eighty years old, a very intelligent man, well preserved, possessing an extraordinary good memory, we had reached a beautiful spot, a little grove that skirted the banks of the St. Joseph river, a mile above the town. Seated upon a log on the elevated bank of the stream, he gave me a thrilling description of the terrible defeat of General Harmer at this point in 1791. He was a spectator of this engagement, so sanguinary and disastrous in its results. While talking, a canoe with several Indians in it was passing down the stream. On discovering Bruno the canoe was headed for the shore, landing at our feet, and I at once recognized that same disgusting old hag of a squaw as one of the party. After a short talk with Bruno they turned into the stream again and passed on to the town. I then told my companion the oft repeated story that I had heard regarding this woman. He said that it was true; that he had known her for forty years; that she was the only daughter of White Skin, the last head of the family of man-eaters.

"I knew her father when I first came to this part of the country to trade with the Indians, in 1785," he said. "White Skin at that time was said to be near a hundred years old, and no doubt it was true, although he was an active, industrious man, possessed a very retentive memory. The family, during the time that I knew them, consisted of the old man, an aged son and their daughter. They resided on Eel river some miles west of Turtle village, the home of the great war chief of the Miamis, Little Turtle, and about thirty-five miles northwest from here (Fort Wayne.) They were known far and near as the man-eating family; they hadn't any friends that I knew of with one exception, and that was Father Baden, a French missionary for many years in this section of the country. He frequently visited them and helped them when they were in want. They lived very secluded lives. The Indians seemed to shun them. I visited White Skin one day and found the old fellow had no reluctance to talk about the man-eating charges made against him, particularly with me. He said: 'To eat human flesh was a religious rite conferred upon his forefathers many, many, generations ago, when the Minneways included most all of the Indians living on this side of the big river (the Mississippi), and, by hereditary descent, passed from family to family. On the death of my grandfather, my father and his only brother became the sole representatives of this order, each having the right to perform the ceremonies at these human sacrifices.'

"White skin prided himself upon the fact that he represented a family that had such great distinction conferred upon it. 'When I was about twenty years old,' said he, 'I attended a grand feast of this kind, held on the east bank of the St. Joseph's river near ke-ki-on-ga.'

"It was over there," said Mr. Bruno, pointing to a rise of the ground, a plateau of about five acres, just east of where we were seated. "I am informed that this was the spot where these human sacrifices took place," said the old man. "We were notified the day before to be at the place of sacrifice the following afternoon. We searched the grounds about noontime. The faces of the entire family were painted black, even the little pappoose on its mother's back. A crowd of several hundred Indians had already assembled, anxiously waiting for the ceremonies to begin. The prisoner, a Sauk Indian, who was perfectly naked, fastened to a stake, was chanting his death song. He was very brave, when the sun was about two hours high a squaw approached with a torch in her hand, to ignite the faggots, when the doomed prisoner snatched the flambeau from her hand and set fire to his own funeral pile. At this act of bravery the entire crowd sent up shouts of applause and admiration. When dead, the body was laid upon the burning coals until it was well cooked; after a prolonged ceremony my father cut off a piece for each member of the family, presenting it to us upon a sharpened stick, or skewer, while we sat in a circle around the fire. After the family were helped, my father, in a loud voice, asked if there was any person present who wished to participate in the feast, when several men and squaws came forward and seated themselves in the circle. They were then helped as we had been. While the feasting was going on a deep silence prevailed. And just as the sun went down behind the tree tops, it was announced that the ceremonies were ended a yell went up that shook the earth and the carcass was left for the dogs to eat."

"Mon Dieu! Mon Dieu!" I exclaimed, filled with horror and disgust at this terrible recital.

On again filling our pipes, he stated that his father and brother were both murdered while asleep in their camp, on their return from one of these human sacrifices, held near the mouth of the Wabash river. Then I became the head of the order.

"Did you ever conduct any of these ceremonies?"

"Yes, once only, and that was over twenty years ago, and that was the last time I ever tasted human flesh."

FOUR LEGGED DUCK.

A Treat in the Poultry Yard of George Click.

There are freaks and freaks but four legged ducks are not to be found every day, consequently George Click, living south of the city, is in good humor because his poultry yard can boast of such a newly hatched fowl. The duck in question has four perfectly developed legs, but is a little puzzled as to how it will use them all to advantage. Here is a chance for some enterprising museum proprietor.

John Riley, grocer, of Greencastle, and Charles Walters, bus drivers, quarreled over a settlement involving one dollar, and Riley fired four shots at Walters, wounding him in the forearm and in the side. Riley was placed under bonds.

"Just as Good,"

Say some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is peculiar to itself.

The "Noon Rest" association hold a meeting this afternoon.

"How to Cure All Skin Diseases."

TAKE S.S.S. IN THE SPRING.

Nature should be assisted in the spring to throw off the heaviness of the sluggish winter circulation of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so prompt or so safely as Swift's Specific.

I have used S. S. S. for a number of years, and consider it the best tonic and blood remedy that I ever used. In fact I would not attempt to enter upon a spring or summer in this climate without it. H. W. COLEMAN,

RAILWAY NEWS.

Matters Concerning the Vast Army of Readers Who Are More or Less Interested.

C. Stahl, of the Pittsburg car shop, is out in the country visiting relatives.

Ed Challenger lost his mustache and now looks as young as the rest of the boys.

James Hanley and wife left yesterday for Wabash, where they will reside in the future.

Dr. J. M. Kells spent the day at Inwood in the interest of the Pennsylvania Relief association.

A. Graber and B. B. Nies, tinsmiths in the Pittsburg shops, are at Milwaukee, visiting relatives.

"Jim," the old horse used in the lumber yard of Rhinesmith & Simonson, is very sick and may die.

Engineers J. C. Kensill and J. H. Kellogg and Fireman W. Devany, of the Pittsburg, are off on a vacation.

Peter Hartnett was at his desk in the Pittsburg shops this morning, having recovered from a three day's illness.

H. G. Quivey, the caller at the east yards, has returned from a pleasant visit with his grandparents at Plymouth, Ind.

T. Welsh, who was sick, is back at his work in the Pittsburg round house. J. Welsh, off on a vacation, has also returned.

M. Cramer has taken a position in the Pittsburg blacksmith shops. Work is plentiful and the men are happy and contented.

D. Petgen, assistant foreman of the Pennsylvania copper shop, has returned from Chicago. Dan says she is as sweet as ever.

New wheat has commenced to move eastward quite briskly. Another month will find the railroads all busy hauling the grain.

William Baade, clerk in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is at home from a visit to Sandusky City and Toledo. He enjoyed the trip.

Eight saloonkeepers of Frankfort are trying to boycott the Vandalia railway because Councilman Beaver, agent of the line, favors high license.

Chief Clerk Cherry, of the Pittsburg car shop, now rides a handsome new bicycle. Thomas Sinclair, of the same office, is also similarly provided.

Pittsburg Firemen W. P. McAfee, J. L. Wilson and F. Wingert, who were off duty for awhile, have reported. Engineer L. P. Craig has also reported for duty.

On account of the illness of his wife, J. H. Fisher, the machinist in the Pittsburg round house, is absent from the shops, and F. Lindemann, of the same department, is taking a vacation.

Jacob Kaiser, J. Stransser and J. Henry, who were absent a few days, showed up for work at the Pittsburg shops this morning, and Louis Kestle and L. Granau were placed on the absent list.

A train of seventeen car loads of cattle was hauled from Kansas City to Buffalo, N. Y., last week, in forty-seven hours, being the fastest time on record with stock delivery from Kansas City to Buffalo.

James McCrea, as first vice president of the Pennsylvania company, is bringing about many reforms, which, combined, are working important changes on the lines west of Pittsburg, and greatly improving the train service.

Fireman F. Penoyer has taken his old position on the Pittsburg. For five weeks he was laid up with rheumatism. F. Archer, fireman on the same road, who was off duty on account of sickness in his family, returned to work this morning.

James Bresler and wife left today for Blue Lake, where they will spend a few days. The father and mother of Mr. Bresler were his guests over Sunday. The old people went to their home in Van Wert yesterday. Jim is braking on the Nickel Plate.

The term of office of the members of the advisory board of the Pennsylvania Voluntary Relief association will probably be changed from one to two years. In one year the board hardly becomes sufficiently informed in the working, of the order, and consequently the organization suffers.

J. E. Martin, of the Pittsburg shops, has returned from Warsaw, where he spent a week on the lakes. He reports having had a good time and came home well supplied with fish stories. His boat capsized in the middle of the lake one day and dumped him in the water, but he swam to the shore in safety.

If a great system like the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy can for June, 1891, come within $13 000 of earning as much as in June, 1890, the prospect is that with the extraordinary crops of this year remarkable gains will be shown. The same remark will apply to most of the western and northwestern systems of roads.

Jesse Swank, formerly of this city, is reported to be lying in a St. Louis hospital in a critical condition. While bathing in the Mississipi river he came in contact with an electric wire, the shock paralyzing his right side. When Swank lived in this city he was employed at various times in the Bass shops and in the electric light works. He left here recently.

Saturday night grasshoppers stopped the Rock Island passenger train east of Lyndon Junction, in Missouri. The hoppers covered the track for a distance of five miles and the wheels of the engine rolled helplessly. Another engine was procured which pushed the train through the five mile column, it taking two hours to accomplish this, even with the two engines.

HERD THE LAW!

The Wholesale Massacre of Dogs to Begin Next Thursday.

A pet water spaniel owned by Henry Wiebke, the saloon-keeper, bit a child yesterday. Today Marshal Franke received instructions to shoot the canine. Mayor Zollinger's attention being called to the fact that his orders relating to the muzzling of dogs had not been obeyed to the letter, he sent for Marshal Franke. To that officer he said: "The dogs must be muzzled or shot. The owners of dogs have been warned about this thing enough. Thursday morning you will begin shooting every dog you see running around without a muzzle, no matter whether the canine is worth nothing or worth $500. Now this is final, and I expect you to see that the law is enforced. The owners of dogs who have been given such freedom from the penalty of the law, heretofore, must either muzzle their dogs or suffer the consequences."

The marshal told a SENTINEL reporter that he did not like to kill a dog that he knew to be prized highly by its owner, but he would see that the mayor's order is obeyed. He stated that about Thursday two men with guns would begin the massacre.

THE RACES.

Large Entry List—Successful Meeting Assured.

The Fort Wayne Driving club, an organization composed entirely of leading business men, will give its first summer race meeting next week, commencing Tuesday afternoon. A splendid lot of entries have already been received and the management are confident that they will have a most successful meeting. This organization certainly deserves the hearty support of the public and there should be large crowds in attendance each day. Tuesday will be "Blue Ribbon" day and all ladies admitted free. The city band will be in attendance each afternoon, and the management will spare no pains in making this the banner meeting of the year. The following is the complete program: The program includes a 2:18 trot and a 2:40 pace on Tuesday; a 2:24 class trot, a 2:30 pace and a two-year-old race on Wednesday; a 2:35 trot, a 2:17 pace and a three-year-old trot on Thursday, and a 2:17 trot, a 2:24 pace and a 2:30 class trot on Friday. All the purses are for $400 each, except the colt races, which are for $150.

Merit wins, as the marvelous success of Hood's Sarsaparilla shows. It possesses true medicinal merit. Sold by all druggists.

One of Chicago's "rapid transit" companies has reduced its capital stock from $6,000,000 to $45,000.

I have been a great sufferer from catarrh for over ten years; had it very bad, could hardly breathe. Some nights I could not sleep and had to walk the floor. I purchased Ely's Cream Balm and am using it freely, it is working a cure surely. I have advised several friends to use it, and with happy results in every case. It is the medicine above all others for catarrh, and it is worth its weight in gold. I thank God I have found a remedy I can use with safety and that does all that is claimed for it. It is curing my deafness.—B. W. Sperry, Hartford, Conn.

ANNIE LOUISE CAREY, at one time considered among the greatest of contraltos, is a large blonde woman in whose handsome countenance beams the benevolence in her heart. Domestic affairs and charity work now engage the greater source of her daily time and attention.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. All druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

A WORD TO ADVERTISERS.

How to Reach the Farmers of Allen County.

The WEEKLY SENTINEL reaches almost every farm home in Allen county. We respectfully invite all advertisers to call at this office and inspect our subscription list. We have the list arranged so it can be seen in a moment how completely it covers the county. Please call and examine.

LOCAL LINES.

Dr. Carl Schilling has moved from his East Jefferson street residence to 112 East Wayne street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Steiner, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Reineke, returned to their home at New York City last night.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Gillett, of Indianapolis, who were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Haus Newell, of South Wayne, have returned home.

Mr. Will Fields left last Saturday morning to make a tour of the country. He will go to California, Oregon and Washington. He will be gone three or four months.

Charles A. Roswell, of Chicago, who has been visiting here, together with his wife, returned home yesterday. Mrs. Roswell is visiting with Mrs. C. A. Long, at 182 East Washington street.

Timothy O'Connor, the book agent, who a few years ago canvassed in this city, has returned, this time connected with a Battle Creek agency. Mr. O'Connor will not remain here long, he says.

James Geary has changed the route of his show on account of the damage done to the tent at Ligonier a few days ago. He announces the following list of towns: Auburn, July 8 and 9; Butler, July 10; Edgerton, July 11; Bryan, July 13 and 14; Hicksville, July 15 and 16; Paulding, July 17 and 18; Defiance, July 20 and 21.

Phœnix lodge K. of P. installed its new officers last night with much ceremony. The officers are: C. C., L. C. Hunter; V. C., E. V. Emerick; Prelate, Chas. Shaw; Master-at-arms, C. Everest; Inner guard, M. S. Wilson; Outer guard, George Seabold, sr. Robert B. Shirley, Wm. A. Meyer and H. B. Chilcoat took the first rank in the same lodge, making the total membership 204.

Miss Ida Poulson, of Spy Run avenue, while sight seeing on Friday evening, lost a valuable diamond pin. Owing to great crowds on the streets the young lady had abandoned all hopes of recovering it, and was very greatly surprised and more than pleased when, on entering Mr. Mordhurst's drug store on the morning of the fourth, that gentleman handed her the pin which he had picked up in his store on that morning.

Sunday afternoon at the Salem German Reformed church, Rev. Zanders officiating, occurred the marriage of Miss Anna M. Ferkel, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Ferekel, of 224 John street, to Mr. Rufus R. Brown. The ceremony was a quiet one, only a few intimate friends being present. The contracting party will go to housekeeping at once. They have a host of friends to wish them well. They will make their home at Chiro, Ill.

Mr. Richard L. Porter, of Fort Wayne, and Miss Martha E. Moore, of New York city (where she made her home for the last two years with her sister, Maggie, an accomplished stenographer and typewriter), but formerly of Millersburg, Holmes county, Ohio, were married at the residence of the brides brother, Dr. W. F. Moore, dentist, 404 First street, June 30, at about 3 o'clock p. m. The bride wore cream gros grain silk with lace trimmings and fashionable train, made in New city. Rev. A. D. Berry, minister of the First Baptist church of Frankfort, Ind., officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Porter will make their future home in Fort Wayne, Ind.—Frankfort Times.

A Foreign Invasion.

Terrible winters throughout Europe brought forth bitter fruits that ripened in America. "La Grippe" with varying violence has left its mark, and the mortality lists show its shocking ravages in aggravated cases. An alcholic principal embodied as a medicated stimulant in the form of Hostetters Stomach Bitters and will ever prove the best specific. Leading continental and American physicians declare that a medicine with a spirituous basis, such as this, affords the surest guaranty against the tremendous inroads of this shocking malady. When we consider that a slight change of weather is apt to renew it, that it attacks those easily vulnerable organs, the lungs, that its progress is tremendously swift and destructive, we must admit the necessity of repelling it at the outset with a sure preventive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is also a safeguard against malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism, liver and kidney complaints.

$2.50 for a round trip ticket to the "National Soldiers' Home," Dayton, Ohio. Train leaves via G. R. and I. R. R. at 5:50 a. m. July 9, and runs direct to the "Home." 6-3t

National Educational Association, Toronto, Ont., July 14 to 17.

For this occasion tickets will be sold by the Wabash Railroad at one fare for the round trip, with $2.00 additional added for membership fee. Tickets will be on sale July 8th to 15th, inclusive, returning until July 20th, 1891. By special arrangement an extension of time will be given until September 30th, thus enabling passengers to visit the St. Lawrence river and White Mountain resorts at a nominal cost. All east-bound Wabash trains make connections at Detroit without going Canadian trains, necessitating but one change of cars.

For descriptive matter, rates, routes, etc., apply by letter or in person to R. G. Thompson, Passenger and Ticket Agent, Fort Wayne, Ind. 6 3t

A PERMANENT LAKE.

The Water Slowly Covering the Great Colorado Desert.

SALTON, Cal., July 7.—Slowly but surely the water in the desert of Colorado is rising. While the evaporation is something terrific at this season of the year, when the thermometer not unfrequently registers 120 and 130 degrees, it cannot keep pace with the mysterious stream that is pouring its waters into Death's valley. Engineers of the Southern Pacific railroad have explored the inland sea to some extent, the excessive heat making it impossible for them to travel far. They have not yet concluded their investigation, but their favorite theory is that the water which is filling up this country comes from the Gulf of California, and that the lake will be permanent. If the water continues to rise within the next few days as rapidly as it has for the last week the Southern Pacific tracks will go.

YELLOW FEVER.

The Dreaded Disease Causes an Exodus at Brunswick, Ga.

NEW YORK, July 7.—A special to the World from Brunswick, Ga., says: The discovery of yellow fever in this city has caused much alarm. Two unmistakable cases of the dread disease were reported on Friday last but the authorities have taken remarkable precautions to keep the matter quiet, even threatening the correspondents with arrest in case they should communicate the fact to the outside world. People are leaving the town by the score. They fear a general outbreak and are moving their families and taking everything with them for a prolonged stay.

La Grippe Again.

During the epidemic of la grippe last season Dr. King's new discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, proved to be the best remedy. Reports from the many who used it confirm this statement. They are not only quickly relieved, but the disease left no bad after results. We ask you to give this remedy a trial and we guarantee that you will be satisfied with results, or the purchase price will be refunded. It has no equal in la grippe, or any throat, chest or lung trouble. Trial bottles free at Dreier & Bro.'s drug store. Large bottles, 50c and $1.00.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies." He found new strength, good appetite, and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle at Dreier Bros.' Drug Store.

WHICH WON THE RACE?

In the 2-mile race on July 4, between a 54 inch geared RAMBLER and a 54-inch geared Cushioned-tired Columbia, (which should have been handicapped, as cushioned-tired wheels always are.) The Columbia simply wasn't in it. The big wheel in front was so far behind as to be lost sight of. "Out of Sight," you know.

One rider in this race, we must admit, won first money, but as he was mounted on a RACER, geared for a racing course, the less we say of him the better.

Then we might also mention that at the Galveston (Texas), meet, Americans captured the cream of the prizes, the RAMBLER taking the Half and One Mile Safety event, and the American Light Champion the One Mile Ordinary, while at Chicago, on the 28th, a cushioned-tired RAMBLER romped away with the Two-mile Handicap at the Second Regiment games—and both Pneumatic and Solids were there, too.

By the way, last Saturday I took another Bicycle, famous (?) for the big wheel in front, as part payment in trade for a RAMBLER, "with a small wheel in front," the rider changing his mount because the old mount was too rigid, so much so as to effect his spine; and, in consequence, I can still sell Columbia's very cheap.

ONE TON —OF— Corn Germ Feed Meal

IS WORTH

4 TONS OF BRAN

For feeding purposes.

One ton of Germ Meal Costs $20.

The Germ Meal is rich in fat, and milk producing qualities. Is it necessary to point out the moral?

This feed is made from the germ, the sweet milky part of the corn, it is steam dried and is very sweet and nutritious. It has not the heavy heating qualities of ordinary corn meal, which is so injurious to horses in hot weather.

For feeding purposes it is far superior to anything else in the market and it is cheap.
